FOREIGN BROADCAST INFORMATION SERVICEOf Special Interest This Week

+ The FBIS bureau in Paraguay extended bureau hours from 16-18 April to cover the Argentine military mutiny from Argentine TV, radio, press agencies and newspapers. According to senior duty officers at the Operations Center, both the NID and PDB writers depended heavily on FBIS reporting. In addition, FBIS operators at the satellite dish at Headquarters maintained an open watch on Buenos Aires TV, providing the Operations Center with live coverage of breaking developments, including President Alfonsin's visit to the rebel base and his later announcement of the end of the revolt. Following reports of further discontent among Argentine military officers, the FBIS Headquarters dish was again used to provide analysts with live Argentine television coverage on 21 and 22 April.
